IMPORTANT: Raised, rough skin spots are ugly at best. But they don't have to mar your appearance any more. See for yourself by taking advantage of this unique opportunity now!

Look years younger! Exfoliate raised sun spots safely and naturally with NO surgery, NO freezing, NO lasers ... Not even a doctor visit!

Dear Friend,

If you're struggling with sun-damaged skin spots, you're not alone. Millions of men and women are affected by these from the sun's harmful ultra-violet rays.

Over time, the damage accumulates and causes the unsightly raised red or brown patches commonly known as sun spots.

Sun spots are NOT simple, flat freckles. Sun spots are raised and scaly and appear most often on your face, arms shoulders and neck. If you've spent some of your life enjoying the outdoors, you know exactly what I'm talking about.

Approximately 75% of all men and women will start noticing sun spots around the ages of 40 or 50. And if you're from an area with above average sun exposure, like Florida or California, chances are almost 100% that you will have sun spots.

Your sun spots can cause all kinds of problems!

As a natural health physician and anti-aging specialist, one of the most frequent problems my patients ask me to help them with is sun spots.

It breaks my heart to see people whose skin makes them look prematurely old -- vibrant people who struggle with embarrassment -- all because their appearance has been marred by sun spots.

And I really hate to see people who have spent hundreds or even thousands of dollars enduring painful injections, freezing or laser treatments that could leave visible scars in place of the sun spots.

Of course, leaving sun spots remain untreated is not a good option either. They are ugly and can rob you of your confidence. They can even make you feel uncomfortable and self-conscious about your appearance.

And most sun spots could become quite unsightly if left alone. Believe me, that's NOT the look you want for yourself!

(over, please)

You don't have to suffer any more!

I'm writing you today so you know you don't have to suffer with sun spots any more! You don't have to worry about them spoiling your appearance. And you don't have subject yourself to expensive and uncomfortable treatments.

Thanks to an all-natural discovery from Australia, you can exfoliate unsightly sun spots safely and naturally right in the privacy of your own home. And most importantly ...

- ✓ You won't be embarrassed any more
- ✓ You'll feel more confident and self-assured
- ✓ You'll look years younger
- ✓ You'll avoid painful treatments, and ...
- ✓ You will save money!

This discovery is an amazing, odor-free, invisible gel called SkinAnswer. I use SkinAnswer in my own practice. I've seen it exfoliate sun spots and promote the appearance of smooth, youthful-looking skin for dozens of my patients. I know it will do the same for you.

And here's what my patients really like: SkinAnswer can undo decades of overexposure to the sun within just 4 to 6 weeks! Believe me, nothing else can improve the appearance of your sun-damaged skin and sun spots like SkinAnswer!

Secret from "down-under" can change your life!

The primary ingredient that gives SkinAnswer its amazing power to exfoliate your sun spots and improve the appearance of your skin is a natural plant compound called glycoalkaloids.

Various plants produce glycoalkaloids as part of their natural defense against insects and other animals. Medical literature records the use of glycoalkaloid-rich plants on damaged skin as far back as the second century A.D. In Australia, a wild species of the solanum plant that is particularly rich in glycoalkaloids has long been used in traditional folk medicine to improve sun damaged skin.

But when Australian veterinarian, Dr. William Cham, discovered the power of glycoalkaloids, he didn't know anything about folk medicine. All he knew was that while most of the farm animals he treated developed sun damage (much like the sun spots we humans get) on their muzzles, there were a few animals who never had any sun damage at all.

Dr. Cham studied these animals carefully and discovered that they were the only animals that grazed on the prickly, difficult-to-eat solanum plant. Dr. Cham had the solanum analyzed to determine what caused this remarkable effect.

What he discovered is the secret that makes SkinAnswer the perfect way to beautify your sun-damaged skin, exfoliate sun spots and look years younger.

SkinAnswer helps diminish sun spots from the inside, out!

Glycoalkaloids are literally a combination of sugar (glyco) and alkaloids. This ingredient in SkinAnswer exfoliates sun-damaged cells by taking advantage of the changes that make sun-damaged skin cells different from normal ones.

Scientists have discovered that when skin cells transform into sun spots, their cell walls lose their natural ability to block certain sugar (glyco) molecules. So under the cover of the attached sugar, the alkaloid molecules in SkinAnswer are easily transported through the cell wall of sun-damaged skin cells right into their core.

Once inside the cell, the alkaloids in SkinAnswer trigger the release of enzymes that literally digest the sun-damaged cells from the inside out.

When you apply a small dab of SkinAnswer twice daily, the raised spot first tingles, then turns red, dries up and flakes away. In its place you will have beautiful, new and healthy looking skin!

Improve the appearance of sun damage without affecting normal skin in any way!

While SkinAnswer is highly effective on sun spots, it is completely harmless to the surrounding skin. Remember, only sun-damaged cells can absorb SkinAnswer's glycoalkaloids. All undamaged cells surrounding the sun spots, and the normal cells that replace the damaged ones, simply can not absorb the glycoalkaloid molecules. They remain completely healthy and unaffected.

Other natural ingredients leave your skin smooth and supple.

While the glycoalkaloids from solanum and willow bark exfoliate your sun spots, SkinAnswer also contains other natural ingredients to make your sun-dried skin look and feel smooth, soft and supple.

Aloe vera has been used in folk medicine for thousands of years. It is known for its ability to soothe, soften and rejuvenate skin tissues.

Oil of Melaleuca has been used for thousands of years by the native Aborigines of Australia for various ailments. Today it is recognized as a valuable ingredient in skin products.

Menthol is known for its natural ability to soothe skin.

Don't take my word for it!

Remember no other product exfoliates sun spots like SkinAnswer. Whether you spent your outdoor hours in the garden, on the golf course, on the water or simply under the sun, years of exposure have left their unsightly marks. Now you can fight back and improve the appearance of sun-damaged skin quickly and easily with SkinAnswer.

I see it every day with my own patients. After just four to six weeks of using SkinAnswer, they come back to me and they are ecstatic! They're thrilled to be able to look in the mirror and see fresh, radiant, youthful, healthy-looking skin where there used to be ugly, raised spots. And so will you!

But don't take my word for it. Read the actual comments I've enclosed from just a few of the thousands of real SkinAnswer users. Better yet ...

Try SkinAnswer yourself!

SkinAnswer* can exfoliate your sun spots in 4 to 6 weeks!

SkinAnswer is not a bleach or fade cream, and its powerful exfoliants do not affect undamaged skin at all. Because SkinAnswer is colorless and odorless, no one will ever know you're using it ... until they notice that your sun spots have seemingly disappeared. Then they'll be amazed!

Order your trial of SkinAnswer today (a single tube of SkinAnswer will exfoliate sun spots totaling about the size of a quarter).

Within just 4 to 6 weeks, your unsightly sun-damaged trouble spots will literally flake off leaving beautiful, healthy skin that looks better than it has in years. I'm confident you will see the difference.

Remember, sun spots will NOT disappear on their own. And some may even become unsightly. Don't struggle with unsightly spots. With SkinAnswer, sun spots can virtually disappear in as little as 4 to 6 weeks!

Just think, 4 to 6 weeks from now you could look in the mirror and see a whole new, younger-looking you with beautiful, clear skin! But you have to act now. There's nothing to lose except your sun spots. Order SkinAnswer now.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ross Hauser

Chief of Cosmetic Surgery

I've been recommending SkinAnswer to my patients for over two years. The ones who have used it have been very satisfied.

In fact, it was a patient who first brought SkinAnswer to my attention.

After reading the materials about this glycoalkaloid product, I started it myself and then recommended it to some of my patients.

They like it because it is a spot application ... they can put it on one area and it is specific to that zone.

Even a Cosmetic Surgeon uses SkinAnswer and recommends it to his patients! Read what he has to say!

“As a salesman, I needed to look my best. But sun-damaged spots were showing up all over.”

Ever since I was a kid I've been out in the sun. I cross country ski. I have a place at the Jersey shore. I play golf four or five times a week. So even if I wear long sleeves and a hat and use SPF 30, I know I've got to be concerned.

So I saw a dermatologist for the sun spots on my skin. He “froze” the spots to remove them. That left a kind of nasty scar. I didn't like that one bit.

Spots kept on coming back more and more frequently. I tried some different creams that just turned my face completely red and purple and then all the skin peeled off. That was the desired effect, but it was rough to go through. I had to take probably a week off before I could go out in public.

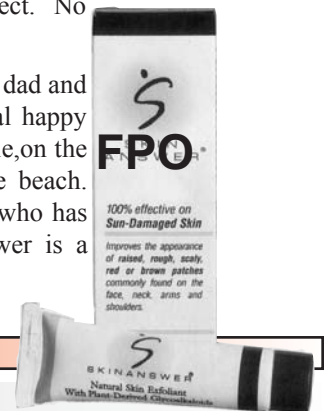

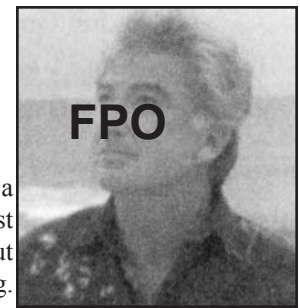

More and more spots kept coming out. I had spots removed five or six different times. You can still see the marks where the damage was. Fortunately they're all on my back and chest, but after all that, I was pretty leery about the sun.

Then I tried SkinAnswer. I figured I'd start by using a small amount of SkinAnswer on a spot on my forehead. For the first three or four days, as soon as I put it on I could feel a little tingling. After that the tingling sensation was gone. Then the spot started to get dry and seemed to disappear. It was just very surprising.

I've been using SkinAnswer for about 2 years now and I'm very happy with it. It's real easy to use. It's not noticeable at all. I can wear it when I'm going to work or out on a date. It has no odor I can detect. No one could tell I was wearing it.

I've recommended it to my dad and my sister and they're both real happy with it. I talk about it to people, on the golf course... to people at the beach. I'd recommend it to anybody who has sun-damaged skin. SkinAnswer is a great product!

“Now you can't even see where the spot was!”

Linda Lombardo spends a good portion of every day outdoors. She does a lot of gardening. She and her husband travel a lot, and they like to walk on the beach. Even when they're not traveling, they walk two or three miles every day. And of course there's play time outdoors with her grandchildren.

“I spent even more time outdoors when I was younger,” Linda says. “As a teenager - a lot of time at the beach. Playing outdoors with my children. I've always been outdoors.”

The first time Linda saw sun spots was about 5 years ago. “There was a spot on my arm about the size of two quarters,” she says. “It didn't concern me much at first, but then it started getting very rough. And it showed whenever I wore a short sleeved shirt; that bothered me too.”

“My family and friends thought I should see a dermatologist right away,” Linda says, “because it was a pretty ugly-looking spot. But I'd read about a product called SkinAnswer in an alternative health newsletter and I thought

I'd try that first.

“One reason I decided to try SkinAnswer first was because I could use it in the privacy of my own home. When I started I was a little doubtful.

But I found it was not uncomfortable to use. It did not show under my clothes. And I began to see, after about 10 days, that the skin began to exfoliate, just like it was supposed to. I felt pretty comfortable at that point. Now you can't even see where the spot was.

“I'm absolutely satisfied with the results of using SkinAnswer. I would recommend it to anyone with sun-damaged skin. It's effective. It's not costly. You can use it in the privacy of your home. And it works very well.”

“I wanted something I could do myself ... monitor myself ... and I didn't want any scars on my head.”

Charles Coolong is a take-charge guy. So when he realized those were sun-damaged spots on his forehead he did a lot of reading, sorted out all the options, and decided on SkinAnswer.

“I've always loved to be outdoors,” Charles says. “And my work has always kept me out in the sun. I've done a lot of photography - as an amateur, and professionally. That's kept me out in the sun. I spend about 2-4 hours outdoors, on average, every day. So I've had a lot of exposure over the years, and I can't really tell you when I first started getting sun-damaged spots on my skin.

“I do know I'd had them for years. I never really thought much about them - I thought they were just freckles. Then a few years ago I had a physical and my doctor told me they weren't freckles, they were sun damage. He advised me to wear a hat, or stay out of the sun.

“That was when I started doing some investigating. Of course I knew they could be removed, but I didn't want scars on my head. I wanted another approach. So I did a lot of reading. It took me a while to discover there were other options - herbal options. I found out there are substances - natural glycoalkaloids - that are very effective on sun-damaged skin.

“By the time I tried SkinAnswer, I was very comfortable with the idea. I'd read about how it was discovered, and how it was used in Australia for sun-damaged skin, and I knew some people spoke very highly of it. I liked the fact that it was something I could do myself ... I could monitor it myself.

“I found SkinAnswer very easy and pleasant to use. It goes on easily. I found it cooling and soothing on the skin, and it has a pleasant smell.

“I used SkinAnswer for about three weeks before I noticed any change. Then there was a softening of the sun-damaged skin... and by the next month you could hardly see the damaged spots at all.

“I still have some spots, and I'm still using SkinAnswer. It's gradually reducing the size and thickness of the spots that remain. I'm quite pleased with the results.”

“Of course I was jolted when my doctor first told me this was sun-damaged skin,” he affirms. “I knew I could use sun blockers, I knew I could wear a hat (I hate hats!) - but I spend 2-3 hours outdoors every day and I really didn't want to have to give that up.

“I tried SkinAnswer because it sounded simple. It wouldn't bend my life out of shape. It's just what I was looking for. It's easy to work with. You can watch your own progress... you don't have to have someone else examine it closely and tell you it's doing this or not doing that. I've found SkinAnswer to be very satisfactory for me, and I'd recommend it to anyone who has sun-damaged spots.”

“I have used this product two times on spots on my face, and had no side effects or problems.”

- Gail L

“SkinAnswer has worked for me exactly as stated it should. It was, in fact, doctor recommended.”

- Clark M.

“Thank you for making the wonderful SkinAnswer - it really works!”

- E. W.

“SkinAnswer has done wonders for my face that numerous dermatologists were not able to accomplish, a great product!”

- Patricia H.
